1200 Techniques - Eye Of The Storm

people are so fickle these days its so dispicable like tentacles, they all try stick on you hold you down if they cannot be sick on you they try to bind you with an A too (?) enforce the written restrictions that we all got to stick to they all disapear and re appeared to suit their needs which to me is a joke, like short term peace treaties i see a disease swarming like bees thinking these underdeveloped war torn countries apparently im on the good side but this worlds so freaky at times i swear this planets on an intergalactic fault line every time i race i cant win i keep place till this land mines blow up in my face again dismembered, i still gotta keep pacin' on, standin strong facing the eye of the storm these days three ways the life game all wrong these days, what we say can do such harm

i replay. each day like an endless song endless of my mind, non stop like the hands of time whats with this financial envy we've got so much poverty, but we keep spending we're like pigs, they just won't stop eating till they hit the bottom of the trough and lick up stinkin im seekin the truth , but how can i be we're in a broken world of families and falacies taught to praise stars who seek fame, do what we must to gain monatry gain and even im with it, but there are limits whatever happened to unconcious idea, MC's talk verbal dihorrea caught up with gun talk and bling bling, hip hop producers who work with pop singers, for ching ching, im thinking

my rich stole, is now of no value light turns to dark, when cold breath hits the candle
